Maybe your computer doesn't meet the hardware requirements; Maybe you bought the game by mistake; Maybe you played the title for an hour and just didn't like it. It doesn't matter. Valve shall, on request through the help.steampowered.com, issue a refund for any reason if the application is used within the required recovery period and, in the case of games, if the title has been played for less than two hours. Further details are provided below, but even if you do not fall under the refund rules we have described, you can request a refund and we will look into it. Within a week of approval, you will be refunded a full refund for your purchase. You'll receive a refund from Steam Wallet or the same payment method you used to make the purchase. If, for some reason, Steam is unable to issue a refund through your initial payment method, your Steam Wallet will be credited in full. (Some payment methods available through steam in your country may not support refunding your purchase back to your original payment method. Click here for the full list.) The steam refund offer, within two weeks of purchase and with less than two hours of playing time, applies to games and software applications in the Steam store. Here's an overview of how refunds work with other types of purchases. Refunds for content downloads (Steam store content usable in another game or software application, DLC) DLC purchased in the Steam store is refundable within a fortnight of purchase, and if the basic title was played for less than two hours from DLC was purchased if the DLC was not consumed, modified or transferred. Please note that in some cases, Steam will not be able to provide refunds for some third party DLC (for example, if the DLC irreversibly levels into a game character). These exceptions will be clearly marked as non-refundable on the Store page before you purchase them. Refunds for in-game purchases in Steam will offer a refund for in-game purchases within any games developed by Valve within forty-eight hours of purchase, unless the item in the game has been consumed, modified or Third-party developers will be able to allow refunds for items in the game under these terms. Steam will tell you at the time of purchase if the game developer has decided to offer refunds on the in-game items you are buying. Otherwise, in-game purchases in non-valve games are not refundable through Steam. Refunds on pre-purchased titles When you pre-purchase a title on Steam (and have paid for the title in advance), you can request a refund at any time before issuing this title. A standard 14-day/two-hour refund period starting on the date of issue of the game also applies. Steam Wallet Refunds You can request a refund for Steam Wallet funds within a fortnight of purchase if they were purchased on Steam and if you did not use any of these funds. Renewable subscription For some content and services, Steam offers a regular (e.g. monthly, annual) approach that you pay on a recurring basis. If a renewable subscription is not used during the current billing cycle, you can request a refund within 48 hours of the initial purchase or within 48 hours of automatic renewal. Content is considered to be used if any subscription games were played during the current billing cycle or if any benefits or discounts included in the subscription were used, consumed, modified, or transferred. Note that you can cancel an active subscription at any time by going into your account details. Once canceled, your subscription will no longer automatically renew, but you'll have access to the content and benefits of your subscription by the end of the current billing cycle. Steam hardware Within the applicable time frame specified in the hardware return policy, you can request a refund for any reason for Steam-purchased Steam hardware and accessories. You must return the hardware to us within fourteen (14) days of requesting a refund, following the instructions we provide to you. For step-by-step instructions on how to undo and cancel your Hardware for Your Steam hardware and accessories, see the hardware rollback policy. Refunds on bundles You can get a full refund for any package purchased from the Steam Store, unless none of the items in the package has been transferred, and if the combined time of use of all items in the package is less than two hours. If the package contains an item in the game or DLC that is not refundable, Steam will tell you if the entire package is reversible during check-out. Purchases made outside of Steam Valve can not provide refunds for purchases made outside of Steam (for example, CD keys or Steam wallet cards purchased from third parties). VAC Bans If you have been banned by VAC (Valve Anti-Cheat System) on the game, you will lose the right to return this game. Video content We are not able to offer refunds for video content on Steam (e.g. movies, shorts, serials, episodes and tutorials) if the video is bundled with other (non-video) returnable content. Refunds for gifts of unmarked gifts may be within the standard 14-day/two-hour refund period. The donations made may be returned under the same conditions if the recipient of the donation initiates a refund. Funds used to purchase the gift will be returned to the original buyer. EU withdrawal law Click here to explain how EU withdrawal law works for Steam customers. The refund for abuse is designed to eliminate the risk of buying titles on steam – not as a way to get free games. If we think you're abusing refunds, we can stop offering them to you. We do not consider it abusive to ask for a refund of a title that was purchased just before the sale and then immediately reprimand that title at the sale price. Maybe your computer doesn't meet the hardware requirements; Maybe you bought the game by mistake; Maybe you played the title for an hour and just didn't like it. It doesn't matter. Valve shall, on request help.steampowered.com, issue compensation for any reason if the application is used within the required repayment period and, in the case of games where the title has been played, than two hours. There are details below, but even if you don't fall under the refund policies we've described, you can still request a refund and we'll take a look at it. Within a week of approval, you will be refunded a full refund for your purchase. You'll receive a refund from Steam Wallet or the same payment method you used to make the purchase. If, for some reason, Steam is unable to issue a refund through your initial payment method, your Steam Wallet will be credited in full. (Some payment methods available through steam in your country may not support refunding your purchase back to your original payment method. Click here for the full list.) The steam refund offer, within two weeks of purchase and with less than two hours of playing time, applies to games and software applications in the Steam store. Here's an overview of how refunds work with other types of purchases. Refunds for content downloads (Steam store content usable in another game or software application, DLC) DLC purchased in the Steam store is refundable within a fortnight of purchase, and if the basic title was played for less than two hours from DLC was purchased if the DLC was not consumed, modified or transferred. Please note that in some cases, Steam will not be able to provide refunds for some third party DLC (for example, if the DLC irreversibly levels into a game character). These exceptions will be clearly marked as non-refundable on the Store page before you purchase them. Refunds for Steam purchases will offer you a refund for in-game purchases within any games developed by Valve within forty-eight hours of purchase, unless the in-game item has been consumed, modified, or transferred. Third-party developers will be able to allow refunds for items in the game under these terms. Steam will tell you at the time of purchase if the game developer has decided to offer refunds on the in-game items you are buying. Otherwise, in-game purchases in non-valve games are not refundable through Steam. Refunds on pre-purchased titles When you pre-purchase a title on Steam (and have paid for the title in advance), you can request a refund at any time before issuing this title. A standard 14-day/two-hour refund period starting on the date of issue of the game also applies. Steam Wallet Refunds You can request a refund for Steam Wallet funds within a fortnight of purchase if they were purchased on Steam and if you did not use any of these funds. Renewable subscription For some content and services, Steam offers a regular (e.g. monthly, annual) approach that you pay on a recurring basis. If a renewable subscription is not used during the current billing cycle, you can request a refund within 48 hours of the initial purchase or within 48 hours of automatic renewal. Content is considered to be used if any subscription games were played during the current billing cycle, you can request a refund within 48 hours of the initial purchase or within 48 hours of automatic renewal. Content is considered to be used if any subscription games were played during the current billing cycle, any benefits or discounts included in your subscription, subscription, or transferred. Note that you can cancel an active subscription at any time by going into your account details. Once canceled, your subscription will no longer automatically renew, but you'll have access to the content and benefits of your subscription by the end of the current billing cycle. Steam hardware Within the applicable time frame specified in the hardware return policy, you can request a refund for any reason for Steam-purchased Steam hardware and accessories. You must return the hardware to us within fourteen (14) days of requesting a refund, following the instructions we provide to you. For step-by-step instructions on how to undo and cancel your Hardware for Your Steam hardware and accessories, see the hardware rollback policy. Refunds on bundles You can get a full refund for any package purchased from the Steam Store, unless none of the items in the package has been transferred, and if the combined time of use of all items in the package is less than two hours. If the package contains an item in the game or DLC that is not refundable, Steam will tell you if the entire package is reversible during check-out. Purchases made outside of Steam Valve can not provide refunds for purchases made outside of Steam (for example, CD keys or Steam wallet cards purchased from third parties). VAC Bans If you have been banned by VAC (Valve Anti-Cheat System) on the game, you will lose the right to return this game. Video content We are not able to offer refunds for video content on Steam (e.g. movies, shorts, serials, episodes and tutorials) if the video is bundled with other (non-video) returnable content. Refunds for gifts Without deposit can be refunded within the standard 14-day/two-hour refund period. The donations made may be returned under the same conditions if the recipient of the donation initiates a refund. Funds used to purchase the gift will be returned to the original buyer. EU withdrawal law Click here to explain how EU withdrawal law works for Steam customers. The refund for abuse is designed to eliminate the risk of buying titles on steam – not as a way to get free games. If we think you're abusing refunds, we can stop offering them to you. We do not consider it abusive to ask for a refund of a title that was purchased just before the sale and then immediately reprimand that title at the sale price. You can request a refund or get other help with Steam purchases on help.steampowered.com. Last updated on November 10, 2020 Page 8 Valve respects the privacy of its online visitors and customers of its products and services and complies with applicable privacy laws, including, without limitation, the California Consumer Protection Act (CCPA), the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Swiss Privacy Shield and EU frameworks. 1. Definitions Wherever we talk about personal data below, we mean all the information that can be either as an individual (Personally Identifiable Information) or which may be indirectly linked to you by linking to personally identifiable information. Valve also processes anonymous data, aggregated or not, to analyze and produce statistics related to the habits, patterns of use and demographics of customers as groups or as individuals. Such anonymous data does not allow identification of the customers to whom they apply. Valve may share anonymous data, aggregated or not, with third parties. Other capitalized terms in this Privacy Policy have the meaning defined in the Steam Subscriber Agreement (SSA). 2. Why Valve collects and processes data valves collects and processes personal data for the following reasons: a) if necessary to fulfill our contract with you to provide full gaming services and provide related content and services; b) if necessary to comply with the legal obligations to which we apply (e.g. our obligations to store certain information under tax laws); c) where necessary for the purposes of the legitimate and legal interests of Valve or a third party (e.g. the interests of our other customers), except where such interests are exceeded by your overthrown legitimate interests and rights; or d) if you have agreed to do so. These reasons for collecting and processing personal data determine and limit what personal data we collect and how we use it (section 3 below), how long we store it (section 4 below), what rights you have to access it (section 5 below) and what rights and other control mechanisms are available to you as a user (section 6 below). 3. The types and sources of data we collect 3.1 Basic account data When you set up your account, Valve will collect your email address and country of residence. You must also select a user name and password. Providing this information is necessary to register a Steam user account. When you set up your account, your account is automatically assigned a number (Steam ID) that will later be used to link to your user account without directly ingly ingly personally identifiable information about you. We do not want you to provide or use your real name to set up a Steam user account. 3.2 Transaction and payment details In order to make a transaction on Steam (e.g. to purchase subscriptions to content and services or to finance your steam wallet), you may need to provide payment details to valve to enable the transaction. If you pay by credit card, you must provide typical credit card information (name, address, credit card number, expiration date and security code) valve, which valve will process and transmit to the payment service provider of your choice, make a transaction and perform anti-fraud checks. Likewise, Valve will receive data from your payment service provider for the same reasons. 3.3 We will collect and process personal data whenever you expressly submit personal data to this to us or send it as part of communication with others on Steam, for example in steam community forums, chats, or when you provide feedback or other user generated content. This data includes: information that you post, comment on or adhere to in one of our Display and Services; information sent via chat; information you provide when you request information or support from us or purchase Content and Services from us, including information necessary to process your orders with the relevant payment merchant or, in the case of physical goods, from shipping providers; information you provide to us when participating in competitions, tournaments and responding to surveys, e.g. 3.4 Your use of the Steam Client and websites We collect a variety of information through your general interaction with the websites, content and services offered by Steam. The personal data we collect may include, but is not limited to, browser and device information, data collected through automated electronic interactions, and app usage data. Likewise, we will track your process through our website and application to verify that you are not a bot and optimize our services. 3.5 Your use of games and other Subscriptions In order to provide you with the Services, we must collect, store and use various information about your activity in our content and services. Content-Related Information includes your Steam ID as well as what is usually referred to as game stats. Based on game statistics, we mean information about your game preferences, game progress, play time, and the device you're using, including the operating system you're using, device settings, unique device identifiers, and crash data. 3.6 Tracking data and cookies We use Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad tags and device identifiers) to help us analyze how users use our services, as well as to improve the services we offer to improve the marketing, analysis or functionality of the website. The use of cookies is standard on the Internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision whether or not to accept cookies is yours. You can adjust your browser settings to prevent cookies from being received, or to notify you whenever a cookie is sent to you. You can refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Managing the use of cookies for each browser is discussed in more detail on the following Help page: . Please note, however, that if you do so, you will not be able to access the full functionality of our website. When you visit from our services, our servers record your IP address, a number that is automatically assigned to the network of which your computer is part. 3.7 Content Recommendations We may process information collected under this Section 3, 3, the content, products and services displayed on the Steam store pages and in the update messages displayed at the launch of the Steam Client can be tailored to your needs and populated by relevant recommendations and offers. This is done to improve your customer experience. You can prevent the processing of your data in this way by disabling the automatic loading of steam store pages and Steam notifications in the interface section of the steam client settings. Subject to your separate consent, or if expressly permitted by applicable e-mail marketing laws, Valve may send marketing messages about the products and services offered by valve to your e-mail address. In this case, we may also use your collected information to personalize such marketing messages, as well as to collect information about whether you opened such messages and which links you followed in their text. You can withdraw your consent to receive marketing emails at any time by either revoking the consent on the same page where you previously provided it, or by clicking the unsubscribe link in each marketing email. 3.8 Information necessary to detect breaches We collect certain data necessary for our detection, investigation and prevention of fraud, cheating and other violations of SSA and applicable laws (Violation). Such data shall be used only for the purpose of detection, investigation, prevention and, where appropriate, the conduct of such breaches and shall be kept only for the minimum period of time necessary for that purpose. If the data indicate that an infringement has occurred, we will continue to retain data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims during the applicable limitation periods or until the legal case relating to it has been resolved. Please note that specific data stored for this purpose may not be disclosed to you if disclosure compromises the mechanism by which we detect, investigate and prevent such breaches. 4. As long as we store your data, we will only retain your data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which the information is collected and processed or, if applicable, for a longer retention and storage period, for the retention and storage period required by law. Then your personal data will be deleted, blocked or anonymised as provided for in applicable law. In particular: If you terminate your Steam user account, your personal information will be marked for deletion except for the degree of legal requirements or other prevailing legitimate purposes dictating longer storage. In certain cases, personal data cannot be completely erased in order to ensure consistency of gaming experience or the Community steam market. For example, matches you've played that affect other players' matchmaking data and scores won't be wasting, rather your connection to these matches will be permanently anonymized. Please note that the valve is obliged to maintain certain under legal commercial and tax law for a period of up to ten (10) years. If you withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data or your child's personal data, we will delete your personal data or your child's personal data without undue delay to the extent that the collection and processing of personal data was based on the consent withdrawn. If you exercise the right to object to the processing of your personal data, we will examine your objection and delete your personal data that we have processed for the purpose you objected to without undue delay, unless there is another legal basis for processing and storing such data, or unless there is relevant legislation requiring us to retain the data. 5. Who has access to the data valve does not sell personal data. However, we may share or provide access to each of the categories of personal information we collect, as appropriate, for the following business purposes. 5.1 Valve and its subsidiaries may share your personal data with each other and use it to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes set out in section 2 above. In the event of a reorganization, sale or merger, we may transfer personal data to the relevant third party according to applicable laws. 5.2 We may also share your personal data with our third-party service providers who provide customer support services in connection with goods, content and services distributed through Steam. Your personal data will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy and only to what extent it is necessary to perform customer support services. 5.3 In accordance with internet standards, we may also share certain information (including your IP address and steam content ID wish to access) with our third-party network providers who provide content delivery network services and steam-related game server services. Our content delivery network providers allow you to deliver the digital content you have requested, for example when using Steam, using a system of distributed servers that provide you with content based on your geographic location. 5.4 Google Analytics Our website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as Google). Google Analytics uses cookies to help website operators analyze the way visitors use the site. Information generated by a cookie about visitors' use of the website will generally be transmitted and stored by Google on servers in the United States. IP anonymization has been activated on this website. IP addresses of users visiting Steam will be truncated. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transferred to a Google server in the United States and truncated there. On behalf of the website operator, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the website their users in order to compile reports on website activity and to provide other services related to website activity and the Internet. Internet, for website operators. Google will not associate the IP address transmitted in connection with Google Analytics with any other data available to Google. You can refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Please note, however, that in this case you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. Learn more about how Google Analytics collects and uses data to www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners. In addition, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data about your use of the website by downloading and installing the browser plug-in via the following link : . 5.5 We will make some data related to your Steam user account available to other players and our partners through the Steamworks API. Anyone can access this information by asking for your Steam ID. At a minimum, the public persona name that you have chosen to represent you on Steam and your avatar image are accessible in this way, as well as whether you have received a ban on cheating in multiplayer. The availability of any additional information about you can be controlled via the Steam Community user profile page: data publicly available on your profile page is automatically accessible through the Steamworks API. In addition to publicly available information, game developers and publishers have access to certain information from the Steamworks API that directly concerns the users of the games they operate. This information includes at least your ownership of the game. Depending on which steamworks services are implemented in the game it may also include information about the leaderboard, your progress in the game, the achievements you have completed, your multiplayer game decision making information, in-game items and other information needed to run the game and provide support for it. For more information about what Steamworks service a particular game has introduced, please read its store page. While we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks API, such as your real name or your email address, all the information you share about yourself on your Public Steam Profile is accessible through the Steamworks API, including information that may make you identifiable. 5.6 The Steam community includes message boards, forums and/or chat areas where users can exchange ideas and communicate with each other. When posting a message to a message board, forum or chat area, please be aware that the information is publicly available online; therefore, you do so at your own risk. If your personal information is posted on one of our community forums against your eat, use the steam reporting feature and help page to request that it be removed. 5.7 Valve may allow you to link your Steam user account to an account offered by a third party. If you agree to accounts, the valve can collect and combine information that Valve receive from a third party with information about your Steam user account to the extent that your consent at the time. If linking accounts requires the transfer of information about you from the valve to a third party, you will be informed before the link takes place, and you will be able to agree to link and transfer your information. Third-party use of your information is subject to the third party's privacy practices, which we recommend you review. 5.8 Valve may release personal data in accordance with court orders or laws and regulations requiring us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws of the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their citizens certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may grant fewer legal rights, we will make the tools designed to exercise such rights available to our customers around the world. To enable you to exercise your data protection rights in an easy way, we provide a dedicated section on the Steam Support page (the Privacy Dashboard). This allows you to access your personal data, repair and delete it if necessary, and object to its use where you deem it necessary. To access it, log in to the Steam support page at and select My Account menu items -&gt; data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage, or delete personal information on the privacy dashboard, but you can also contact Valve with questions or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights in relation to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your personal data we hold about you, i.e. the right to request free (i) information about whether your personal data is stored, (ii) access to stored personal data and/or (iii) duplicates. You can use the right of access to your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing information or communication or refusing to act upon the request. 6.2 Right to rectification. When we process your personal data, we will endeavour to ensure that your personal data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it was collected. If your personal information is inaccurate or incomplete, you can change the information you provide through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3. Right of revocation. You have the right to have personal data concerning you deleted if the reason why we might collect it (see section higher), it no longer exists, but there is legal basis for its deletion. Edit them for each item of personal information using the privacy dashboard or request deletion through the Steam support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting your Steam user account, you will lose access to Steam services, including Steam user account, subscription and game-related information associated with the Steam user account and the ability to access other services that you use the Steam user account for. We will allow you to recover your Steam user account during the grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the moment you request the deletion of your Steam user account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, loss of account credentials or hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that you may have started before sending the request to delete the steam user account. Upon expiry of the grace period, the personal data associated with your account will be deleted under section 4. Above. In some cases, deleting your Steam user account, and thus deleting personal data, is complicated. Namely, if your account has a business relationship with Valve, for example, because of your work for the game developer, you will be able to delete your Steam user account only after you have transferred this task to another user or dissolved the account. In some cases, due to the complexity and number of requests, the time limit for erasure of personal data may be extended, but not by a further two months. 6.4 Right to object. If our processing of your personal data is based on legitimate interests, we shall, in accordance with Article 6(2) of Directive 2004/39/EC, take the necessary steps to ensure that your personal data are processed in accordance with the provisions of this Directive. If you object, we will no longer process your personal data unless there are compelling and prevailing legitimate grounds for processing as described in Article 21 of the GDPR; particular where the data are necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority. 6.5 Right to restrict the processing of your personal data You have the right to restrict the processing of your personal data under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR. 6.6 Right to the portability of personal data You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and you have the right to transfer such data to another controller under the conditions set out in Article 20 of the GDPR. Valve will make your personal data available in structured HTML format via the Privacy Dashboard as described above. 6.7 Right to post-legal control of your personal data If you are subject to French data protection law, you have the right to provide storage instructions; (a) the transfer of personal data after your death in accordance with Article 40-1 of Law No 78-17 of 6 July 1977. Kids Minimum age to create a Steam user account is 13. Valve will not knowingly collect personal information from children under that age. If some countries exercise a higher age of consent to collect personal data, Valve requires parental consent before creating a Steam user account and collecting the personal data associated with it. Valve encourages parents to instruct their children never to hand out personal information when online. 8. Contact information You can contact Valve's Data Protection Officer at the address below. This information includes at least your ownership of the game. Depending on which steamworks services are implemented in the game it may also include information about the leaderboard, your progress in the game, the achievements you have completed, your multiplayer game decision making information, in-game items and other information needed to run the game and provide support for it. For more information about what Steamworks service a particular game has introduced, please read its store page. While we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks API, such as your real name or your email address, all the information you share about yourself on your Public Steam Profile is accessible through the Steamworks API, including information that may make you identifiable. 5.6 The Steam community includes message boards, and/or chat areas where users can exchange ideas and communicate with each other. When posting on board, forum or chat area, be aware that the information is publicly available online; therefore, you do so at your own risk. If your personal information is posted on one of our community forums against your eeat, use the steam reporting feature and help page to request that it be removed. 5.7 Valve may allow you to link your Steam user account to an account offered by a third party. If you agree to link accounts, Valve may collect and combine information that you have authorized Valve to receive from a third party with information about your Steam user account to the extent that your consent at the time. If linking accounts requires the transfer of information about you from the valve to a third party, you will be informed before the link takes place, and you will be able to agree to link and transfer your information. Third-party use of your information is subject to the third party's privacy practices, which we recommend you review. 5.8 Valve may release personal data in accordance with court orders or laws and regulations requiring us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws of the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their citizens certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may grant fewer legal rights, we will make the tools designed to exercise such rights available to our customers around the world. To enable you to exercise your data protection rights in an easy way, we provide a dedicated section on the Steam Support page (the Privacy Dashboard). This allows you to access your personal data, repair and delete it if necessary, and object to its use where you deem it necessary. To access it, log in to the Steam support page at and select My Account menu items -&gt; data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage, or delete personal information on the privacy dashboard, but you can also contact Valve with questions or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights in relation to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your personal data we hold about you, i.e. the right to request free (i) information about whether your personal data is stored, (ii) access to stored personal data and/or (iii) duplicates. You can use the right of access to your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing information or communication or taking the requested action) or refusing to act on Application. 6.2 Right to rectification. If, if the we will endeavour to ensure that your personal data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it was collected by introducing appropriate measures. If your personal information is inaccurate or incomplete, you can change the information you provide through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3. Right of revocation. You have the right to delete personal data concerning you if the reason why we might collect it (see section 2 above) no longer exists or if there is another legal reason for deleting it. Edit them for each item of personal information using the privacy dashboard or request deletion through the Steam support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting your Steam user account, you will lose access to Steam services, including Steam user account, subscription and game-related information associated with the Steam user account and the ability to access other services that you use the Steam user account for. We will allow you to recover your Steam user account during the grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the moment you request the deletion of your Steam user account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, loss of account credentials or hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that you may have started before sending the request to delete the steam user account. Upon expiry of the grace period, the personal data associated with your account will be deleted under section 4. Above. In some cases, deleting your Steam user account, and thus deleting personal data, is complicated. Namely, if your account has a business relationship with Valve, for example, because of your work for the game developer, you will be able to delete your Steam user account only after you have transferred this task to another user or dissolved the account. In some cases, due to the complexity and number of requests, the time limit for erasure of personal data may be extended, but not by a further two months. 6.4 Right to object. If our processing of your personal data is based on legitimate interests, we shall, in accordance with Article 6(2) of Directive 2004/39/EC, take the necessary steps to ensure that your personal data are processed in accordance with the provisions of this Directive. If you object, we will no longer process your personal data unless there are compelling and prevailing legitimate grounds for processing as described in Article 21 of the GDPR; particular where the data are necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority. 6.5 Right to restrict the processing of your personal data You have the right to restrict the processing of your personal data under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR. 6.6 Right to the portability of personal data You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and have the right to transfer such data to another controller under the conditions set out in Article 20 of the GDPR. Valve will make your personal data available in structured HTML format via the Privacy Dashboard as described above. 6.7 Right to control your personal data after your killing If you are subject to French data protection law, you have the right to provide instructions for the storage, erasure and transfer of personal data after your death in accordance with Article 40-1 of Law No 78-17 of 6.7. Kids Minimum age to create a Steam user account is 13. Valve will not knowingly collect personal information from children under that age. If some countries exercise a higher age of consent to collect personal data, Valve requires parental consent before creating a Steam user account and collecting the personal data associated with it. Valve encourages parents to instruct their children never to hand out personal information when online. 8. Contact information You can contact valve's Data Protection Officer at the address below. While we review any request sent by post, please note that in the fight against fraud, harassment and identity theft, the only way to access, correct or delete your data is to log in with your Steam user account at and select menu items -&gt; My Account -&gt; View Account Details. In this case, an arbitration option will be available to you. 10. Additional information for California CCPA users grants california residents certain privacy rights regarding the personal information we collect. We are committed to respecting these rights and respecting the CCPA. The following explains these rights and valve practices with respect to them. A right to know. Under the CCPA, you have the right to ask you to disclose to you what personal information we collect, use, disclose and sell. The right to request deletion. You also have the right to request the deletion of personal data available to us, with certain exceptions. Please note that your request to delete data may in some cases affect your use of Steam and we may refuse to delete information for the reasons set out in this Privacy Policy or in accordance with the CCPA. Other rights. The CCPA also gives California residents the right to opt out of the sale of their personal information. As described in section 5, we do not sell personal data and have not done so in the last 12 months. You also have the right to receive notice of our practices on or before your personal data is collected. Finally, you have the right to be discriminated against for exercising your rights under the CCPA. Exercise of your rights. The main means of accessing, deleting, or deleting your personal information is the Privacy Dashboard, as described in section 6 of this Policy. Customers may also delete your steam account and related personal information as described in section 6.3 of this Privacy Policy. If you cannot access or delete data through the Privacy Dashboard, you can also contact us to request that you exercise these rights using the form located . To verify your identity, you'll need to sign in with your Steam user account to use the form. Eventually, however, you may contact us with a request for questions@valvesoftware.com, before providing access to or removing any personal data upon request, we will need to verify your identity using the Proof of Ownership process described on . You may designate, in writing or through authorization, an authorized representative to make requests on your behalf to exercise your rights under the CCPA. Before receiving such a request from an agent, we will require the agent to provide the evidence you have on your behalf, and we may need you to verify your identity directly. Directly. Us. Categories, sources, purposes and recipients of the data we collect. In the previous 12 months, we have collected the categories of personal data described in Section 3 of this Privacy Policy. The sources from which we collect personal data and the purposes for which we collect and process it are described in sections 2 and 3. In the previous 12 months, we have disclosed for business purposes each category of personal data with third-party categories as described in section 5. Definitions Wherever we talk about personal data below, we mean any information that may either identify you as an individual (Personally Identifiable Information) or that may be indirectly linked to you by linking to personally identifiable information. Valve also processes anonymous data, aggregated or not, to analyze and produce statistics related to the habits, patterns of use and demographics of customers as groups or as individuals. Such anonymous data does not allow identification of the customers to whom they apply. Valve may share anonymous data, aggregated or not, with third parties. Other capitalized terms in this Privacy Policy have the meaning defined in the Steam Subscriber Agreement (SSA). 2. Why Valve collects and processes data valves collects and processes personal data for the following reasons: a) if necessary to fulfill our contract with you to provide full gaming services and provide related content and services; b) if necessary to comply with the legal obligations to which we apply (e.g. our obligations to store certain information under tax laws); c) where necessary for the purposes of the legitimate and legal interests of Valve or a third party (e.g. the interests of our other customers), except where such interests are exceeded by your overthrown legitimate interests and rights; or d) if you have agreed to do so. These reasons for collecting and processing personal data determine and limit what personal data we collect and how we use it (section 3 below), how long we store it (section 4 below), who has access to it (section 5 below) and what rights and other control mechanisms are available to you as a user (section 6 below). 3. The types and sources of data we collect 3.1 Basic account data When you set up your account, Valve will collect your email address and country of residence. You must also select a user name and password. Providing this information is necessary to register a Steam user account. When you set up your account, your account is automatically assigned a number (Steam ID) that will later be used to link to your user account without directly ingly ingly personally identifiable information about you. We do not want you to provide or use your real name to set up a Steam user account. 3.2 Transaction and payment details In order to make a transaction with Steam (e.g. to purchase subscriptions to content and services or to finance your steam wallet), you may need to provide payment details to valve to enable the transaction. If you pay with a credit card, you must provide typical credit card information (name, address, credit card number, expiration date and security code) valve, which valve will process and send to the payment service provider of your choice to enable the transaction and perform anti-fraud checks. Likewise, Valve will receive data from your payment service provider for the same reasons. 3.3 We will collect and process personal data whenever you expressly provide it to us or send it to us as part of communication with others on Steam, such as in Steam Community forums, chats or when you provide feedback or other user-generated content. This data includes: information that you post, comment on or adhere to in one of our Display and Services; Information sent via chat; information you provide when you request information or support from us or purchase Content and Services from us, including information necessary to process your orders with the relevant payment merchant or, in the case of physical goods, from shipping providers; Information you provide to us when participating in competitions, competitions and tournaments or responding to surveys, e.g. 3.4 Your use of the Steam Client and websites We collect a variety of information through your general interaction with the websites, content and services offered by Steam. The personal data we collect may include, but is not limited to, browser and device information, data collected through automated electronic interactions, and app usage data. Likewise, we will track your process through our website and application to verify that you are not a bot and optimize our services. 3.5 Your use of games and other Subscriptions In order to provide you with the Services, we must collect, store and use various information about your activity in our content and services, e.g. 3.6 Tracking data and cookies We use Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad tags and device identifiers) to help us analyze how users use our services, as well as to improve the services we offer to improve the marketing, analysis or functionality of the website. The use of cookies is standard on the Internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision whether or not to accept cookies is yours. You can use your browser settings to prevent cookies from being received or to notify you whenever a cookie is sent to you. You can refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Usage management cookies for each browser are listed in more detail on the following Help page: . Please note, however, that if you do so, you will not be able to access the full functionality of our website. When you visit one of our services, our servers record your IP address, a number that is automatically associated with the network of which your computer is part. 3.7 Content Recommendations We may process the information collected under section 3 so that the content, products and services listed on the Steam Store pages and in the update messages displayed at the launch of the Steam Client can be tailored to your needs and filled with relevant recommendations and offers. This is done to improve your customer experience. You can prevent the processing of your data in this way by disabling the automatic loading of steam store pages and Steam notifications in the interface section of the steam client settings. Subject to your separate consent, or if expressly permitted by applicable e-mail marketing laws, Valve may send marketing messages about the products and services offered by valve to your e-mail address. In this case, we may also use your collected information to personalize such marketing messages, as well as to collect information about whether you opened such messages and which links you followed in their text. You can withdraw your consent to receive marketing emails at any time by either revoking the consent on the same page where you previously provided it, or by clicking the unsubscribe link in each marketing email. 3.8 Information necessary to detect breaches We collect certain data necessary for our detection, investigation and prevention of fraud, cheating and other violations of SSA and applicable laws (Violation). Such data shall be used only for the purpose of detection, investigation, prevention and, where appropriate, the conduct of such breaches and shall be kept only for the minimum period of time necessary for that purpose. If the data indicate that an infringement has occurred, we will continue to retain data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims during the applicable limitation periods or until the legal case relating to it has been resolved. Please note that specific data stored for this purpose may not be disclosed to you if disclosure compromises the mechanism by which we detect, investigate and prevent such breaches. 4. As long as we store your data, we will only retain your data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which the information is collected and processed or, if applicable, for a longer retention and storage period, for the retention and storage period required by law. Then your personal data will be deleted, blocked or anonymised as provided for in applicable law. In particular: If you close your steam user account, your personal information will be marked with the exception of legal requirements or other predominant legitimate purposes, to dictate longer storage. In certain cases, personal data cannot be completely erased in order to ensure consistency of gaming experience or the Community steam market. For example, matches you've played that affect other players' matchmaking data and scores won't be wasting, rather your connection to these matches will be permanently anonymized. Please note that Valve is obliged to keep certain transaction data under the legal commercial and tax laws for up to ten (10) years. If you withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data or your child's personal data, we will delete your personal data or your child's personal data without undue delay to the extent that the collection and processing of personal data was based on the consent withdrawn. If you exercise the right to object to the processing of your personal data, we will examine your objection and delete your personal data that we have processed for the purpose you objected to without undue delay, unless there is another legal basis for processing and storing such data, or unless there is relevant legislation requiring us to retain the data. 5. Who has access to the data valve does not sell personal data. However, we may share or provide access to each of the categories of personal information we collect, as appropriate, for the following business purposes. 5.1 Valve and its subsidiaries may share your personal data with each other and use it to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes set out in section 2 above. In the event of a reorganization, sale or merger, we may transfer personal data to the relevant third party according to applicable laws. 5.2 We may also share your personal data with our third-party service providers who provide customer support services in connection with goods, content and services distributed through Steam. Your personal data will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy and only to what extent it is necessary to perform customer support services. 5.3 In accordance with Internet standards, we may also share certain information (including your IP address and steam content ID you wish to access) with our third-party network providers who provide content delivery network services and steam-related game server services. Our content delivery network providers allow you to deliver the digital content you have requested, for example when using Steam, using a system of distributed servers that provide you with content based on your geographic location. 5.4 Google Analytics Our website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as Google). Google Analytics uses cookies to help website operators analyze the way visitors use the site. Information generated by the file use of the website by visitors will generally be transmitted and stored by Google on servers in the United States. IP addresses of users visiting Steam will be truncated. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transferred to a Google server in the United States and truncated there. On behalf of the website operator, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the website for its users in order to compile reports on website activity and provide other services related to website activity and internet usage for website operators. Google will not associate the IP address transmitted in connection with Google Analytics with any other data available to Google. You can refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Please note, however, that in this case you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. Learn more about how Google Analytics collects and uses data to www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners. In addition, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data about your use of the website by downloading and installing the browser plug-in via the following link . 5.5 We will make some data related to your Steam user account available to other players and our partners through the Steamworks API. Anyone can access this information by asking for your Steam ID. At a minimum, the public persona name that you have chosen to represent you on Steam and your avatar image are accessible in this way, as well as whether you have received a ban on cheating in multiplayer. The availability of any additional information about you can be controlled via the Steam Community user profile page; data publicly available on your profile page is automatically accessible through the Steamworks API. In addition to publicly available information, game developers and publishers have access to certain information from the Steamworks API that directly concerns the users of the games they operate. This information includes at least your ownership of the game. Depending on which steamworks services are implemented in the game it may also include information about the leaderboard, your progress in the game, the achievements you have completed, your multiplayer game decision making information, in-game items and other information needed to run the game and provide support for it. For more information about what Steamworks service a particular game has introduced, please read its store page. While we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks API, such as your real name or your email address, all the information you share about yourself on your Public Steam Profile is accessible through the Steamworks API, including information that may make you identifiable. 5.6 The Steam community includes message boards, and/or chat areas where users can exchange ideas and communicate with each other. When posting on board, forum or chat area, be aware that the information is publicly available online; therefore, you do so at your own risk. If your personal information is posted on one of our community forums against your eeat, use the steam reporting feature and help page to request that it be removed. 5.7 Valve may allow you to link your Steam user account to an account offered by a third party. If you agree to link accounts, Valve may collect and combine information that you have authorized Valve to receive from a third party with information about your Steam user account to the extent that your consent at the time. If linking accounts requires the transfer of information about you from the valve to a third party, you will be informed before the link takes place, and you will be able to agree to link and transfer your information. Third-party use of your information is subject to the third party's privacy practices, which we recommend you review. 5.8 Valve may release personal data in accordance with court orders or laws and regulations requiring us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws of the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their citizens certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may grant fewer legal rights, we will make the tools designed to exercise such rights available to our customers around the world. To enable you to exercise your data protection rights in an easy way, we provide a dedicated section on the Steam Support page (the Privacy Dashboard). This allows you to access your personal data, repair and delete it if necessary, and object to its use where you deem it necessary. To access it, log in to the Steam support page at and select My Account menu items -&gt; data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage, or delete personal information on the privacy dashboard, but you can also contact Valve with questions or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights in relation to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your personal data we hold about you, i.e. the right to request free (i) information about whether your personal data is stored, (ii) access to stored personal data and/or (iii) duplicates. You can use the right of access to your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing information or communication or taking the requested action) or refusing to act on Application. 6.2 Right to rectification. If, if the we will endeavour to ensure that your personal data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it was collected by introducing appropriate measures. If your personal information is inaccurate or incomplete, you can change the information you provide through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3. Right of revocation. You have the right to delete personal data concerning you if the reason why we might collect it (see section 2 above) no longer exists or if there is another legal reason for deleting it. Edit them for each item of personal information using the privacy dashboard or request deletion through the Steam support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting your Steam user account, you will lose access to Steam services, including Steam user account, subscription and game-related information associated with the Steam user account and the ability to access other services that you use the Steam user account for. We will allow you to recover your Steam user account during the grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the moment you request the deletion of your Steam user account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, loss of account credentials or hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that activity in our content and services. Content-Related Information includes your Steam ID as well as what is usually referred to as game stats. Based on game statistics, we mean information about your game preferences, game progress, play time, and the device you're using, including the operating system you're using, device settings, unique device identifiers, and crash data. 3.6 Tracking data and cookies We use Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad tags and device identifiers) to help us analyze how users use our services, as well as to improve the services we offer to improve the marketing, analysis or functionality of the website. The use of cookies is standard on the Internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision whether or not to accept cookies is yours. You can adjust your browser settings to prevent cookies from being received, or to notify you whenever a cookie is sent to you. Using files you can reject by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Managing the use of cookies for each browser is discussed in more detail on the following Help page: . . Please note that if you do so, you will not be able to access the full functionality of our website. When you visit one of our services, our servers record your IP address, a number that is automatically associated with the network of which your computer is part. 3.7 Content Recommendations We may process the information collected under section 3 so that the content, products and services listed on the Steam Store pages and in the update messages displayed at the launch of the Steam Client can be tailored to your needs and filled with relevant recommendations and offers. This is done to improve your customer experience. You can prevent the processing of your data in this way by disabling the automatic loading of steam store pages and Steam notifications in the interface section of the steam client settings. Subject to your separate consent, or if expressly permitted by applicable e-mail marketing laws, Valve may send marketing messages about the products and services offered by valve to your e-mail address. In this case, we may also use your collected information to personalize such marketing messages, as well as to collect information about whether you opened such messages and which links you followed in their text. You can withdraw your consent to receive marketing emails at any time by either revoking the consent on the same page where you previously provided it, or by clicking the unsubscribe link in each marketing email. 3.8 Information necessary to detect breaches We collect certain data necessary for our detection, investigation and prevention of fraud, cheating and other violations of SSA and applicable laws (Violation). Such data shall be used only for the purpose of detection, investigation, prevention and, where appropriate, the conduct of such breaches and shall be kept only for the minimum period of time necessary for that purpose. If the data indicate that an infringement has occurred, we will continue to retain data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims during the applicable limitation periods or until the legal case relating to it has been resolved. Please note that specific data stored for this purpose may not be disclosed to you if disclosure compromises the mechanism by which we detect, investigate and prevent such breaches. 4. As long as we store your data, we will only retain your data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which the information is collected and processed or, if applicable, for a longer retention and storage period, for the retention and storage period required by law. Then your personal data will be deleted, blocked or anonymised as provided for in applicable law. In particular: If you terminate your Steam user account, your personal information will be marked for deletion except for the degree of legal requirements or other prevailing legitimate purposes dictating longer storage. In certain cases, personal data may not be completely erased in order to ensure consistency of gaming experience or the Community steam market. For example, matches you've played that affect other players' matchmaking data and scores won't be wasting. rather your connection to these matches will be permanently anonymized. Please note that Valve is obliged to keep certain transaction data under the legal commercial and tax laws for up to ten (10) years. If you withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data or your child's personal data, we will delete your personal data or your child's personal data without undue delay to the extent that the collection and processing of personal data was based on the consent withdrawn. If you exercise the right to object to the processing of your personal data, we will examine your objection and delete your personal data that we have processed for the purpose you objected to without undue delay, unless there is another legal basis for processing and storing such data, or unless there is relevant legislation requiring us to retain the data. 5. Who has access to the data valve does not sell personal data. However, we may share or provide access to each of the categories of personal information we collect, as appropriate, for the following business purposes. 5.1 Valve and its subsidiaries may share your personal data with each other and use it to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes set out in section 2 above. In the event of a reorganization, sale or merger, we may transfer personal data to the relevant third party according to applicable laws. 5.2 We may also share your personal data with our third-party service providers who provide customer support services in connection with goods, content and services distributed through Steam. Your personal data will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy and only to what extent it is necessary to perform customer support services. 5.3 In accordance with Internet standards, we may also share certain information (including your IP address and steam content ID you wish to access) with our third-party network providers who provide content delivery network services and steam-related game server services. Our content delivery network providers allow you to deliver the digital content you have requested, for example when using Steam, using a system of distributed servers that provide you with content based on your geographic location. 5.4 Google Analytics Our website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as Google). Google Analytics uses cookies to help website operators analyze the way visitors use the site. Information generated by a cookie about visitors' use of the website will generally be transmitted and stored by Google on servers in the United States. On the ip anonymisation has been activated on the website. IP addresses of users visiting Steam will be truncated. Only in cases, the complete IP address will be transferred to a Google server in the United States and truncated there. On behalf of the website operator, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the website for its users in order to compile reports on website activity and provide other services related to website activity and internet usage for website operators. Google will not associate the IP address transmitted in connection with Google Analytics with any other data available to Google. You can refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. Please note, however, that in this case you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. Learn more about how Google Analytics collects and uses data to www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners. In addition, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data about your use of the website by downloading and installing the browser plug-in via the following link: . 5.5 We will make some data related to your Steam user account available to other players and our partners through the Steamworks API. Anyone can access this information by asking for your Steam ID. At a minimum, the public persona name that you have chosen to represent you on Steam and your avatar image are accessible in this way, as well as whether you have received a ban on cheating in multiplayer. The availability of any additional information about you can be controlled via the Steam Community user profile page; data publicly available on your profile page is automatically accessible through the Steamworks API. In addition to publicly available information, game developers and publishers have access to certain information from the Steamworks API that directly concerns the users of the games they operate. This information includes at least your ownership of the game. Depending on which steamworks services are implemented in the game it may also include information about the leaderboard, your progress in the game, the achievements you have completed, your multiplayer game decision making information, in-game items and other information needed to run the game and provide support for it. For more information about what Steamworks service a particular game has introduced, please read its store page. While we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks API, such as your real name or your email address, all the information you share about yourself on your Public Steam Profile is accessible through the Steamworks API, including information that may make you identifiable. 5.6 The Steam community includes message boards, forums and/or chat areas where users can exchange ideas and communicate with each other. When you post a message to a message board, forum, or area, please be aware that the information is publicly available online; therefore you do so on own risk. If your personal information is posted on one of our community forums against your eat, use the steam reporting feature and help page to request that it be removed. 5.7 Valve may allow you to link your Steam user account to an account offered by a third party. If you agree to link accounts, Valve may collect and combine information that you have authorized Valve to receive from a third party with information about your Steam user account to the extent that your consent at the time. If linking accounts requires the transfer of information about you from the valve to a third party, you will be informed before the link takes place, and you will be able to agree to link and transfer your information. Third-party use of your information is subject to the third party's privacy practices, which we recommend you review. 5.8 Valve may release personal data in accordance with court orders or laws and regulations requiring us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws of the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their citizens certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may grant fewer legal rights, we will make the tools designed to exercise such rights available to our customers around the world. To enable you to exercise your data protection rights in an easy way, we provide a dedicated section on the Steam Support page (the Privacy Dashboard). This allows you to access your personal data, repair and delete it if necessary, and object to its use where you deem it necessary. To access it, log in to the Steam support page at and select My Account menu items -&gt; data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage, or delete personal information on the privacy dashboard, but you can also contact Valve with questions or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights in relation to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your personal data we hold about you, i.e. the right to request free (i) information about whether your personal data is stored, (ii) access to stored personal data and/or (iii) duplicates. You can use the right of access to your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing information or communication or taking the requested action) or refusing to act upon the request. 6.2 Right to rectification. If we process your personal data, we will seek to ensure that we measure to ensure that your personal data is accurate and up to date. Current. purposes for which they were collected. If your personal information is inaccurate or incomplete, you can change the information you provide through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3. Right of revocation. You have the right to delete personal data concerning you if the reason why we might collect it (see section 2 above) no longer exists or if there is another legal reason for deleting it. Edit them for each item of personal information using the privacy dashboard or request deletion through the Steam support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting your Steam user account, you will lose access to Steam services, including Steam user account, subscription and game-related information associated with the Steam user account and the ability to access other services that you use the Steam user account for. We will allow you to recover your Steam user account during the grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the moment you request the deletion of your Steam user account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, loss of account credentials or hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that you may have started before sending the request to delete the steam user account. Upon expiry of the grace period, the personal data associated with your account will be deleted under section 4. Above. In some cases, deleting your Steam user account, and thus deleting personal data, is complicated. Namely, if your account has a business relationship with Valve, for example, because of your work for the game developer, you will be able to delete your Steam user account only after you have transferred this task to another user or dissolved the account. In some cases, due to the complexity and number of requests, the time limit for erasure of personal data may be extended, but not by a further two months. 6.4 Right to object. If our processing of your personal data is based on legitimate interests, we shall, in accordance with Article 6(2) of Directive 2004/39/EC.c, take the necessary steps to ensure that your personal data are processed in accordance with the provisions of this Directive. If you object, we will no longer process your personal data unless there are compelling and prevailing legitimate grounds for processing as described in Article 21 of the GDPR; particular where the data are necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority. 6.5 Right to restrict the processing of your personal data You have the right to restrict the processing of your personal data under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR. 6.6 Right to the portability of personal data You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and you have the right to transfer such data to another under the conditions laid down in Article 20 of the GDPR. Valve will make your personal data available in structured HTML format via the Privacy Dashboard as described above. 6.7 Right to control your personal data after your killing If you are subject to French data protection law, you have the right to provide instructions for the storage, erasure and transfer of personal data after your death in accordance with Article 40-1 of Law No 78-17 of 6.7. Kids Minimum age to create a Steam user account is 13. Valve will not knowingly collect personal information from children under that age. If some countries exercise a higher age of consent to collect personal data, Valve requires parental consent before creating a Steam user account and collecting the personal data associated with it. Valve encourages parents to instruct their children never to hand out personal information when online. 8. Contact information You can contact valve's Data Protection Officer at the address below. While we review any request sent by post, please note that in the fight against fraud, harassment and identity theft, the only way to access, correct or delete your data is to log in with your Steam user account at and select menu items -&gt; My Account -&gt; View Account Details. Revision date: January 8, 2021 Page 12 For any reason you can request a refund for almost any purchase on Steam. Maybe your computer doesn't meet the hardware requirements; Maybe you bought the game by mistake; Maybe you played the title for an hour and just didn't like it. It doesn't matter. Valve shall, on request through the help.steampowered.com, issue a refund for any reason if the application is used within the required recovery period and, in the case of games, if the title has been played for less than two hours. Further details are provided below, but even if you do not fall under the refund rules we have described, you can request a refund and we will look into it. Within a week of approval, you will be refunded a full refund for your purchase. You'll receive a refund from Steam Wallet or the same payment method you used to make the purchase. If, for some reason, Steam is unable to issue a refund through your initial payment method, your Steam Wallet will be credited in full. (Some payment methods available through steam in your country may not support refunding your purchase back to your original payment method. Click here for the full list.) The steam refund offer, within two weeks of purchase and with less than two hours of playing time, applies to games and software applications in the Steam store. Here's an overview of how refunds work with other types of purchases. Refunds for content downloads (Steam store content usable in another game or software application, DLC) DLC purchased in the Steam store is refundable within a fortnight of purchase, and if the basic title was played for less than two hours from DLC was purchased if the DLC was not consumed, modified or transferred. Please note that in some cases, Steam will not be able to provide refunds for some third party DLC (for example, if the DLC irreversibly levels into a game character). These exceptions will be clearly marked as non-refundable on the Store page before you purchase them. Refunds for Steam purchases will offer you a refund for in-game purchases within any games developed by Valve within forty-eight hours of purchase, unless the in-game item has been consumed, modified, or transferred. Third-party developers will be able to allow refunds for items in the game under these terms. Steam will tell you at the time of purchase if the game developer has decided to offer refunds on the in-game items you are buying. Otherwise, in-game purchases in non-valve games are not refundable through Steam. Refunds on pre-purchased titles When you pre-purchase a title on Steam (and have paid for the title in advance), you can request a refund at any time to the issue of this title. A standard 14-day/two-hour refund period starting on the date of issue of the game also applies. Steam Wallet Refunds You can request a refund for Steam Wallet funds within a fortnight of purchase if they were purchased on Steam and if you did not use any of these funds. Renewable subscription For some content and services, Steam offers a regular (e.g. monthly, annual) approach that you pay on a recurring basis. If a renewable subscription is not used during the current billing cycle, you can request a refund within 48 hours of the initial purchase or within 48 hours of automatic renewal. Content is considered to be used if any subscription games were played during the current billing cycle or if any benefits or discounts included in the subscription were used, consumed, modified, or transferred. Note that you can cancel an active subscription at any time by going into your account details. Once canceled, your subscription will no longer automatically renew, but you'll have access to the content and benefits of your subscription by the end of the current billing cycle. Steam hardware Within the applicable time frame specified in the hardware return policy, you can request a refund for any reason for Steam-purchased Steam hardware and accessories. You must return the hardware to us within fourteen (14) days of requesting a refund, following the instructions we provide to you. For step-by-step instructions on how to undo and cancel your Hardware for Your Steam hardware and accessories, see the hardware rollback policy. Refunds on bundles You can get a full refund for any package purchased from the Steam Store, unless none of the items in the package has been transferred, and if the combined time of use of all items in the package is less than two hours. If the package contains an item in the game or DLC that is not refundable, Steam will tell you if the entire package is reversible during check-out. Purchases made outside of Steam Valve can not provide refunds for purchases made outside of Steam (for example, CD keys or Steam wallet cards purchased from third parties). VAC Bans If you have been banned by VAC (Valve Anti-Cheat System) on the game, you will lose the right to return this game. Video content We are not able to offer refunds for video content on Steam (e.g. movies, shorts, serials, episodes and tutorials) if the video is bundled with other (non-video) returnable content. Refunds for gifts Without deposit can be refunded within the standard 14-day/two-hour refund period. The donations made may be returned under the same conditions if the recipient of the donation initiates a refund. Funds used to purchase the gift will be returned to the original buyer. EU withdrawal law Click here to explain how EU withdrawal law works for Steam customers. The refund for abuse is designed to eliminate the risk of buying titles in steam – not as a way to get Games. If, if the we think you're abusing refunds, we can stop offering them to you. We do not consider it abusive to ask for a refund of a title that was purchased just before the sale and then immediately reprimand that title at the sale price. You can request a refund or get other help with Steam purchases on help.steampowered.com. Last Updated: 10 November, 2020 2020
